The Passing of Walter Camp. This will be the story-ringing around the world after the football season of 1915 is gone. There are a few more games to be played before the curtain is rung down on the gridiron season, and this year will see the passing of one of the most noted figures in the football world.

Camp has done much for football, and his work on the rules committee has been favorably commented upon by all football critics. Present football has much to thank the Yale man for, and he will retire from the football arena or rather has retired with the closing of the game this year with the selection of an All-American team.

Camp made a great reputation for himself some years ago by picking All-American teams. At that time the football world occupied but a strip of land along the Atlantic coast; but the followers of the gridiron game have watched the game grow; and it has grown past Camp so much that in the last few years the Yale man has lost many of his followers, who believed him an authority on football throughout the country.

Camp has selected a team each year, and much of the selecting has been done on guesswork. Whenever a team has made a good showing Camp has picked some man on that team for his mythical eleven. The first joke came when he selected Shaughnessy of Minnesota on his first eleven and the Gopher player was not even considered on the All-American team.

For the first time Camp picked a coast man on one of his teams, and he did this as a result of the Oregon Aggie game in Lansing. Those critics who have followed the playing of the

Many Diamond Events Booked For Holidays

Wet grounds prevented the Punahou team from showing anything more than a workout last Sunday at the Armsong field, but a number of players were on the job and Doty, the new first sacker from Portland, was in uniform and in the first workout looked like the best bet in the city at the first cushion. The other players looked up to form and with good weather the team should be in condition for the game with the Chinese Stars on New Year's Day.

John Ganzel will take a look at Doty before he leaves Honolulu and, although the Brooklyn boss is on a visit and has forgotten baseball for the time being, he never overlooks a chance to watch a young fellow in action who can show something. Doty, according to the sport writers in the Northwest, is an ideal first sacker, and should improve here, where he can play baseball 12 months in the year.

Fast infield. With Doty on first, Sadler at second, Chillingworth at short and Lyman or Peden at the difficult corner, the Nell stars would present a strong inner defense and should give the Chinese Stars an interesting contest when they meet. Lai Tin, Ayau, Kan Yen, En Sue, Ah Lee and other stars will be in the Chinese lineup, and this game should be a big drawing card. Lang Akana, Ray O'Brien, Walter Argabrite and Bill Inman will be stationed in the jungles with the Punahou team. Brown, York and Williams will be the heavy trio, with Henshaw or Lyman behind the plate.

The Oahu League will close their series next Sunday, when the All-Chinese and All-Army and the Portuguese and 25th Infantry meet at Athletic park. The Chinese aggregation still holds the league and both the 25th and Chinese will have to lose to keep them from the consolation. On Christmas Day Lieut. Sadler's 1st Infantry team will meet the 25th Infantry in the first game of a series at Schofield.

NIGEL JACKSON HAS RECORD IN DISTANCE EVENTS IN HONOLULU

A mile race for enlisted soldiers will be an added feature of the New Year's Day races at Kapiolani park on January 2. There are many enlisted men who have crowded five minutes in this event, and a number of entries have already been received. The five-mile event will also see a number of enlisted men entered and many stars will toe the mark for the modified marathon.

Nigel Jackson will be one of the entries in the five-mile event, and according to past records should make a good showing. He won the Haleiwa race of 33 miles in 4 hours and 50 minutes on March 22, 1909. He took first in the marathon at Moiliili field on April 18 of that year. He has victories over Soldier King and Fitzgerald, the Canadian runner. He led the field in the 10-mile road race in 1913 in 58 minutes and 28 seconds. He also took second place in the Hilo cross country run. Jackson is out on the road every day, and will make an effort to add a victory to his list of wins.

SERVICE SQUAD TO MEET CANARIES ON "Y" ALLIES TONIGHT

The Service team with Captain Statton in command will bowl Captain Canario's Nationals this evening at 7:30 in the Y. M. C. A. service league. With Tretow and Reed back in the harness, Statton will have his entire team ready for action tonight. Canario hasn't given out a lineup for the Nationals as yet, but he will use Gendall, Young, F. J. Smith, Wikander, Van Deusen and Ackerman during the match. The Nationals are improving and will work hard to climb in the percentage table.

A novice tournament is now the center of attraction on the Y. M. C. A. always until New Year's Day. The management is conducting a ragtime doubles tourney, open to all members who have not competed on a senior league team this season. There are about 50 non-leaguers who roll occasionally and these men can all pair up and bowl in the ragtime doubles at any time.

NEW YORK GETS A. A. U. MEET

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The 1916 junior and senior indoor track and field championships of the Amateur Athletic Union will be held in New York City, according to an official announcement made today by Frederick W. Rubien, chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union championship committee. The junior meet will be held January 29th and the senior meet March 18th.

HE IS COOL

Some wag said that the critics should have picked Cool of Cornell for center over the others this year on the mythical eleven, because he had a good name for a football player, but another said that Peck of Pittsburgh would measure up better. At any rate Cool, who was the lightest center in the limelight this year, was picked on Camp's All-American, and many critics selected him over Peck, while McEwan of the Army was another big star.

SAN FRANCISCO TO HAVE GREAT SWIM PROGRAM

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 12.—William Coffman, who was largely responsible for the success of the recent Panama-Pacific swimming activities, sees a bright outlook for the national game during the coming year. According to Coffman, California's stardom is commencing to assume a rank with the best of the land, this including, of course, the Hawaiian islands. The recent showing of such stars as Ludy Langer, Billy Williams and other native state stars has increased the interest in the sport and will have a tendency to rank the Golden State tank stars in the same class as are other California athletic notables.

It is understood that there is a strong movement afoot for staging an international swimfest for women in this city during the coming summer season. Previous to 1916 this city has been the scene of numerous all-star swimming meetings which have resulted in attracting high-class entries and the production of new records. The movement to hold a meeting principally for women is a good one. It is understood that an effort will be made to secure the entry of such mermals as Miss Fanny Durack of Sydney, Australia, who holds several world's records; Miss Ruth Stacker, one of the world's principal stars, and Miss Olga Dorfner of Philadelphia, who is at present a sensation at all distances in the East.

California Talent. California would not want for representation in such a meet, for we have such feminine luminaries as Miss Frances Cowells and Miss Dorothy Becker, both of whom have shone with particular brilliance in local affairs. The addition of their names to any entry list would give the bill additional attractiveness. Just what final plans will develop in connection with this proposed meet is largely a matter of conjecture, but it seems reasonable to imagine that the move will be a popular one.

Recent intelligence from Honolulu

Lavigne Made Many Friends In Old Days

A week ago a number of the boys who used to know Kid Lavigne in his palmy days gave a benefit for the Saginaw boy. Kid Lavigne was a credit to the game. Those who remember the tales of the lightweight, and those who have watched him in the ring know that he was a square fighter.

Lavigne's wonderful fight with Joe Walcott when he was beaten and torn in the early rounds, and then turned defeat into victory will not be forgotten by the fight fans. His battle with Dick Lurge, the English boy, is another illustration of how Lavigne worked to better the ring game. He wasn't looking for bouts in the United States Treasury, as some of our boys are doing now, and he didn't haggie about the weight.

Burge weighed 150 pounds when he fought Lavigne, and the officials told Lavigne that the fight would have to be called off or Lavigne would have to go against the extra poundage. It was decided to stage the bout, and the officials stated that it would not be a title bout. Lavigne said "Forget it; I'll fight him if he weighs a ton, and if I don't lick him he can have the title." He knocked the Englishman out. Lavigne was the type that you don't see any more and fight fans in Honolulu are pleased to see something done for the Michigan boy.

ALL-STARS TO MEET CRACK SERVICE FIVE ON NEW YEAR'S NIGHT

One of the features of the open house at the Y. M. C. A. on New Year's night will be a basketball game between the crack Service team and an all-star team which is being organized by John Gomes. The Service team is preparing for a trip to the states to represent the Honolulu Y. M. C. A., and regular practice is held each evening. New Year's Night the public will have their first chance to see the Service in action after practice for the mainland trip was started. Sgt. Brush is putting his men through a stiff course of training, which will show results. Team to Be Picked.

The all-star team is not yet picked, but it is definitely known that Gomes is after Clarence Brown, the old Tiger center, to play at least one half with his former team mates, Harry Henry and James Nott, at forward. This combination, with Melnecke at one guard and either Dean Lake or Ralph Gaylord as the other guard, would undoubtedly give the Service team all it wanted to win.

Harrison and Dreier are also wanted by Gomes for the all-star team on New Year's Night, and Harry Melim, who is very fast, will likely play for at least part of the game. Goebig is wanted for a forward and there are other men whom Gomes is anxious to have out for a go against the army quintet.

This evening at 7 o'clock the Dormitory team meets to plan a campaign for the second series. It is expected that the name of the club will be changed. Regular practice periods will be determined and adhered to rigidly. A couple of new men who can strengthen the team will also be secured. If the Dormitory club improves according to expectations, it is likely to be the team selected to meet the Service in a big benefit game just before the latter aggregation leaves for the coast.

HOGG TO CAPTAIN PRINCETON

PRINCETON, N. J.—Frank Trevor Hogg of Pittsburgh, Pa., was elected captain of the Princeton football squad for 1916. He is a junior in the engineering department and played at guard on the Princeton team during the last two seasons.

has it that Clarence Lane, who swam to such advantage in this city during the recent Panama-Pacific meetings, is showing particular and vivid strokes in his native surf. Lane, according to the island authorities, is the logical man to fill the shoes of the great Duke Kahanamoku, when the latter retires from the game. The Duke, according to this same advice, is by no means finished as yet, as he has been earning himself along at a great rate in the island events. Both Lane and the Duke are expected to show to particular advantage during the coming Mid-Pacific Carnival.

Herbert Volmer, a high school prodigy, who is now swimming under the colors of the New York Athletic Club, is going great guns along the Atlantic seaboard, according to recent advices from the big brush. Volmer, very recently, swam 100 yards in 0:54 4-5 in the tank of the New York Athletic Club. This is considered to be sensational time for such stars as Daniels, McGilivray and Heber have failed to do much better than 0:56 in the same tank. Those who have seen Volmer work are vehement in their statement that he will perform in sensational style in the near future.

Old Grad Has Lesson In Cow Pasture Pool

Former Varsity Center Spends Day on Links and Learns Language of Course—Says That Golf is Not a Fireside Contest Between Weaklings—Old Grad Interested in Work of Golf Architect—Digging Trenches Feature of Sunday's Play

I found the Old Grad in the restaurant last night tuzzling with one of those steaks that remind one of the hinge on a trunk. "Well, old friend, I haven't noticed you around the athletic marts of trade of late. Has football pleased you this year, or have you turned your affections to some other sport," I asked.

"Well, it's like this," said the Old Grad as he exercised two molars and one bicuspid on something that looked like a razor stop. "After watching 22 young death defying persons on the gridiron, I have decided that volleyball or some other game would be quite apropos for the balance of the year, but I'm doomed now. I've taken up cross country pool."

Cross Country Pool. After investigating what the term meant, the Old Grad started out on his tale of woe: The other night I went out to visit one of the boys of the Umpty three class and incidentally one of the best mandolin players in Harwash and found him in the parlor with a poker, telling his wife how he made a low one on the eighth hole. Then he started on me and I learned more about the game of golf than I hoped to in a century. Every time this friend of mine goes down a crowded street he yells "Fore," so you can see what I was up against.

When I first heard of golf, I thought that it was intended for people with the acute and that no one who was strong enough to play Authors would engage in the game with out sneaking around the corner. I was firmly convinced that they played it in the parlor and the one who was the leading man would receive a gold thimble for a prize, but like a lot of things that I have run up against since I played center on the varsity, it's different.

They Were Finalists. Last Sunday this friend of mine lugged me out to the Country Club where a lot of healthy men were competing in a final match. There were four of them—C. G. Bockus, Lieut. Col. Campbell, Major Horn and Capt. C. S. Lincoln. They say they played well, I don't know, as they didn't have a full back.

First thing you take a little ball and you set it up on a small hill and you are supposed to push it around the lot. You use a crooked piece of wood or iron and you hit the ball towards a hole with a tin can in the center. When you get within a foot of the can you take a hammer out of the bag and knock the ball in.

LARGE CROWD WILL GO TO MAUI RACES ON NEW YEAR'S DAY

Hundreds of race fans and many others who have watched the race meets on Maui are planning to leave Honolulu on the steamer Kilauea for Kahului on Friday evening, December 31. The feature events are many, and the Wild West stunts should prove attractive to those who have watched the big programs in Pendleton, Cheyenne, Elko and Salinas. The roping contest between the one-armed contestants for a side bet is creating much interest in Honolulu.

The program for the big day on Maui will be the best that has ever been offered to race followers, and the fact that many of the best horses on Oahu will be entered will lend interest to the race event. The Harvester, Denervo and many others have made fast times on the Kahului track, and racing enthusiasts in this city are backing the local horses against the best on Maui.

The Inter-Island company have announced a round trip rate of $10 and $5 for the Maui trip. The Kilauea will leave Honolulu on Friday evening at 11 p. m., arriving at Kahului Saturday morning, January 1. The return trip will be made leaving Kahului Sunday evening at 11 p. m., arriving at Honolulu on Monday morning, giving the local people two days on Maui.

NEW PLUNGE SWIM RECORD

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 9.—A new world's swimming record for the 60-foot plunge for distance was claimed today for Craig Redmon, a 230-pound athlete of the University of Chicago. Competing against the Chicago Athletic Association team last night, Redmon plunged the 60 feet in 0:19 1-5, two-fifths of a second faster than the former world's mark.

Les Darcy is becoming a factor in the world of sports. They have named a 5-cent cigar after the Sydney wonder. Hope he doesn't go up in smoke.

Recent intelligence from Honolulu

Miss Molla Bjurstedt, the Norwegian tennis star, who has ranked first this year in the ladies' singles, will become a resident of United States. She left California last week for the East. Miss Bjurstedt is the first foreigner to receive first ranking in the ladies' singles.

Chairman A. L. Castle of the tennis committee has received a letter from Allen O. White, a professional tennis player, who wishes to come to Honolulu to teach tennis. White will be located at Nassau, the Bahamas, this winter. It might be a wise idea to have an instructor for the ladies here. Honolulu is about the only spot in the world where the fair sex have failed to show an interest in the racket game.

The letter received from Beals Wright, in which he states that William Johnston may be his doubles partner here during February, makes it appear as if Honolulu would have an opportunity to watch the work of the champion.

Beals C. Wright, who will come to Honolulu the middle of January, is a notable figure in the tennis world. He has played 16 matches in the Davis Cup play and has been returned the victor on eight occasions. He defeated N. E. Brooks, the great Australian star, two matches in four, and sent A. F. Wilding to defeat on three occasions. Wright's most notable match was with Norman Brooks, which was won by the American in five sets, the score being 0-6, 3-6, 7-5, 6-2, 12-10.

Manila is making great preparations for the tournament which will be held there in January. Many of the leading racket wielders of the Far East will compete. Clarence Griffin and Ward Dawson, who will play here in February, have already arrived at Manila.

We see that the mainland press has awarded Ty Cobb the title of champion boxer for the year. It is also stated on good authority that Woodrow Wilson is president of the United States, and 2 added to 2 has been totaled as 4.

Freddie Welsh says that he is not particular where he fights. From his past actions it looks as if he would welcome a bout in one of the United States mints.

Chick Evans states that golf is good for the voice. This must be true. C. G. Bockus missed a two-foot putt at the Oahu Country Club on Sunday and a spectator heard what he said 400 yards away.

The name of Beals C. Wright added to the list of stars who will play in Honolulu during the Carnival shows that the tennis committee has been busy.

According to Parke Davis, the football statistician, more than 32,000 college and scholastic football games were played during the past autumn, while more than 6,500,000 spectators witnessed the matches. Last season's figures were placed at 34,000 games and 6,252,000 spectators.

Walter Camp has picked an All-Camp team again this year. Camp says that he will not select a team next year. Neither will Villa be president nor Dumba have a statue erected in Washington.

The Joe Potts money talk at Schofield has created another discussion. Potts must have been reading the works of Packey McFarland or Mike Gibbons' treatise on "Fox Trotting to Wealth."
